

GERMANY TO PROBE LUSITANIA LOSSES

By International News Service.
Washington, Sept. 20.—Germany will pay an indemnity for all American lives lost in the sinking of the Lusitania, State department officials made this plain today in discussing the court action in New York, in which the German Government has many desires to limit its liability in damages, suits to the $5,248 received by it for fares and freight on the big liner sunk by a German submarine off the Irish coast.

It is expected that the question of a complete settlement of Lusitania claims as far as Americans are affected will be taken up by Secretary Lansing when Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador, returns to this city for the winter.

The losses at which all were progressed will forward the point of arranging a plan of settlement when they were interrupted by the sinking of the White Star liner Titanic on Aug. 15, 1912.

In explaining the status of the Lusitania case State Department officials said today:
"Germany has accepted liability for the loss of American lives through the sinking of the Lusitania. The question of the amounts that will be paid probably will be settled through direct negotiations between Secretary Lansing and the German Ambassador."

"Because of the status of the negotiations between the United States and the United States regarding the entire question of submarine warfare, it has been deemed wise up to the present to press for a settlement, inasmuch as in the last American note on the subject to Berlin this government said:

"The government of the United States will only open a negotiation execution hereafter of the new altered policy of the imperial government, such as will remove the principal danger to an interruption of the good relations existing between the United States and Germany."

But should it develop after Count von Bernstorff returns to Berlin for the winter that Germany is living up to its promise and all conditions now available indicates that this is so then it will be resumed. The halted negotiations to be resumed."

WAR SUMMARY

During the past twenty-four hours on the front in France there has been fierce fighting, which has netted gains for neither the French nor the Germans. Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria threw his hat into the ring against the French troops between Clercy and the Somme. He took some advance trenches, but was ejected by French counterattacks, according to the Paris War Office. The German offensive was launched to relieve Peronne, which is hard pressed from the northwest.

About Rouschewsky a great artillery duel is in progress, presumably preceding infantry assaults by which the allies hope to increase the gains they have already made in this region.

The prompt return to Kavala of the Greek garrison soldiers recently seized there and taken to German territory is demanded by the Greek premier in an ultimatum to Berlin. The ultimatum expires Friday. The status of Greece in the general theatre of war may be settled by Germany's reply.

The rejuvenated Serbian army is marching on toward Monastir, and has captured two important heights east of the Cernus, besides repulsing the Bulgars in the open country between the Broda River and Florina, where the Serbs have been forced to meet extensive cavalry attacks, according to French announcement.

The report that the Austrians are about to give up Trieste comes from the same quarter which announced the fall of Gorizia nearly a year in advance.

The official report states that a strong cavalry attack in this region was repulsed by the Serbs.

Rumanians Fall Back in Strell
Bucharest, via London, Sept. 20.—Rumanian forces in Transylvania have been heavily reinforced and have opened a strong offensive against the invading Hunnians to the west of the Tisza River. A statement issued by the War Office today admitted that the Hunnians were being pushed slightly in the Strell valley before the Rumanian advance, but without avail.

CONSCRIPTION IN IRELAND FAVORED

London, Sept. 20.—"Conscription" in Ireland is urged by the Daily Mail today in an article calling attention to the necessity of obtaining more men for the army—a problem which, it says, has engaged the full attention of the government.

The newspaper suggests two other methods for adding to the army. There are the raising of the age limit from forty-one to forty-five years and the coming out of the young men from exempted occupations of whom it estimates there are 1,500,000 physically fit who have not yet been drafted into the army.

The Times military correspondent, discussing the same point, says: "There can be only one rule for the army—there can be no place in the army for any man who is not fit for the service, and if this action is not taken quickly and thoroughly Germany will beat us in organizing her man power."

"Completion for Ireland is necessary if the Irish divisions are to be maintained. As to Great Britain raising the age limit, it is not presently needed until three or four million men are needed in civil occupations and sheltered from service have been conscripted."

WILL RAISE BIG BOSTON FUND FOR HUGHES

A huge fund to swing Boston and Massachusetts into the Republican column at the Presidential election is being raised by Boston bankers and brokers who desire to see Hughes elected, it became known today.

Two hundred thousand dollars is said to be the goal of the committee of stock brokers raising the largest Hughes fund in Boston. Several donations of $25,000 have been made to this fund.

Several other committees are working in Boston to raise money to support Hughes. Besides committees of bankers and brokers, the wool men have a committee at work and similar committees are active in other lines of business to roll up an enormous fund to pay the Hughes campaign expenses.

HEADED BY THAYER.
A committee headed by Eugene V. Thayer of the Merchants National Bank is raising another fund for the Republican National Committee. This committee asks a minimum donation of $10.

George B. Bacon of the Merchants National Bank, secretary of the fund, said today that several donations of $250 have been made to this fund.

Mr. Bacon said that the larger donations were being raised by a private committee of brokers and bankers, and that he did not know the names of the members of this committee.

Members of the firms of Kidder, Peabody & Co., Lee Higginson and Hayden, Stone & Co., are said to have donated $25,000 each to the $200,000 fund. Corporations cannot donate to campaign funds. Donations have to be made by individuals.

Each broker on State street in Boston is being asked to give at least $1,000 to this $200,000 fund being raised by the private committee.

LARGE CONTRIBUTIONS.
Kidder, Peabody & Co. are said to have headed the list of subscribers to this fund. Other brokers have given amounts ranging from $1,000 to $25,000.

The committee handling the smaller donations—as low as $10—consists of Eugene V. Thayer, chairman; Charles L. Dyer, Louis K. Liggett, Herbert Parker, Frank W. Stearns and Philip Stockton, with George H. Bacon as secretary.

Each man who donates to this committee, whether $10 or $500, receives an engraved certificate, on which is a picture of Hughes and wording to the effect that the holder is a "sustaining member" of the Republican National Committee.

The committee has mailed over 11,000 subscription blanks. They usually send ten or twelve to men with whom they are acquainted, asking them to see that each blank is then filed in by friends.

Randolph C. Crew is one of the brokers who received eleven blanks from Mr. Thayer and had friends fill them in and contribute.

FIVE KILLED BY EXPLOSION IN MILL

By International News Service.

The cause of the explosion is unknown.

BAY STATE FIREMEN OPEN CONVENTION

Gloicester, Sept. 20.—The thirty-seventh annual convention of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association opened here this afternoon, with 700 delegates in attendance.

Mayor Barrett and Chief Smith of the local fire department welcomed the visitors at the opening session at City Hall. The convention will last for three days.

A telegram dated Bellows Falls, Vt., reading: "We were married here today" was the first intimation that Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Farrell of Watertown had of the Gretna Green marriage of their daughter, Mary F. Farrell, to George A. Taylor, a Boston accountant, living at No. 122 Commonwealth avenue.

The telegram was dated September 19.

Mrs. Taylor is the oldest of three daughters, known as Watertown's prettiest sisters. She is also credited as being the most attractive girl in a large Boston department store, where she was employed.

The news of the wedding was a surprise to the parents, who are awaiting a letter for further particulars of the runaway match. They have yet to learn who the officiating clergyman was.

TABERNACLE ROOF WITHIN THE LAW

The "Bully" Sunday tabernacle is conforming to the building laws of Boston, was the statement made today by Building Commissioner O'Brien to Andrew J. Scallion, agent of Campbell, Lord & Son, No. 26, who complained that the building on the tabernacle was not according to the law.

Scallion told the commissioner that the building on the tabernacle was not according to the law, but the commissioner said he would look into the matter.

COMPLIES WITH LAW.
The commissioner replied: "I have no need of consulting any of the expert architects in Boston. The tabernacle is not a building, it is a structure. It is not subject to the building laws, but to the fire laws, and it complies with the fire laws."

Scallion has maintained that the tabernacle is a fire trap and that the roof being put on by the W. A. Martfield Company, who have charge of the job, is not up to the standard.

The trouble began a few days ago when Building Agent J. C. Morrison of Sheet Metal Union Local No. 17, who is in charge of the tabernacle, ordered four union men at work on the roof to leave the job, as they were working with non-union men.

Contractor Martfield says Scallion is trying to force him to compel his employees to join the union.

The Good Things Mother Used to Make Were Good—

But modern skill in cooking has produced many different dishes of surpassing flavor.

Same with old-fashioned corn flakes. They seemed good once, but modern appetites now find something far better in

New Post Toasties

They are so different and superior to any old-style flakes that you will never know the acme of real corn goodness until you try New Post Toasties.

They cost no more—

GIRLS' SWIM IS TO BE BIG EVENT

Interest in the girls' championship swimming races increases hourly with the approach of the annual regatta. This refers to the AMERICAN TWENTY annual girls' race for the swimming championship of New England.

It takes place in the Charles River basin Saturday afternoon, September 21.

The starting ceremony will be held at 2:15 o'clock.

From the present prospect between two teams and three girls will make the diving start when they get the signal.

That makes the most exciting kind of a contest, one that the Boston and New England public likes to see.

Entrance for the race will close at eleven tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon, sharp.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the hair, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary milled castile oil, which is pure and greasy, and is better than the more expensive soap or anything else you can use.

Use one or two large drops to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply rub the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dirt, dust, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp cool and the hair soft and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get milled castile oil at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

ADDRESS _____

The AMERICAN annual swimming contest for New England girls has come to be easily the swimming classic of the year.

Tens of thousands of spectators come to it whenever their favorite contestants along the course and then cheer the winner tumultuously.

The Metropolitan Park Commission, which has charge of the beautiful Charles River Basin, approved the contest from the first because it appeals to a mother and tremendously popular use of the basin.

City officials, school authorities, gymnasium instructors and swimming masters have been enthusiastic about these races and the girls—well, they are all in it.

It is a great event, a mighty protest against the constant and appreciable state.

It is the easiest thing in the world to teach. Surface and surface line go near the river and the girls—well, they are all in it.

From the bridge or platform the swimmers are in plain view all the way.

It has become the regular thing now for the whole neighborhood, especially if it has a favorite in the race, so as to let nothing interrupt their seeing the contest from start to finish.

They don't last long enough to tire spectators, about an hour or so. It is a daily swimming spectacle while it is on and it brings spectators by the thousands.

My Duty as a Piano Merchant Is to Lower the Price Without Lowering the Quality

How I Helped a Factory Lower Its Cost of Production

I HAVE always been a seller of pianos—never a maker. But, since the cost of making governs the price of selling, I have made an exhaustive study of the manufacture of pianos and have learned what there is to know about the piano from the wood to the warehousing. I have not the time or space here to go into the detail of piano construction and what enters into its cost. But let me tell you briefly how I reduced the cost of production at a high-class factory so that I could sell their fine pianos at a lower price to my customers. Subjecting the business methods of this factory to the test of modern efficiency, I found: that they were making too big, too heavy and too ornate a case, altogether too expensive and unnecessary, and disproportionate to the rooms of modern apartments and dwellings. Their methods of construction were old-fashioned and expensive. They paid too much money for everything that went into the piano—the best, understand, but it cost them more than up-to-date makers paid for the same qualities. It was their proud boast that they paid as they went—but they didn't go far. I showed them how to finance their business for 5% or less and save 20% on buying materials by paying spot cash and buying heavily on the low market stock enough to carry them through high market periods. When I finished at that factory they were making a better piano for much less money.

Toney to Face Braves

BRAVES MAY STOP GIANTS.
Some team has got to stop the Giants, and why not the Braves as well as any other? New York, with fourteen or fifteen games won, looms up as a formidable foe for any team, but in these days all teams look alike to the Braves. That a good many "fans" are yet confident of victory is shown by the fact that a goodly number of people yesterday made applications for World Series tickets at Braves Field for games in which they figure the Braves will surely play.
